It is important that you read this document

This information will help you to choose a financial adviser that best suits your needs. It will also provide some useful information about the financial adviser that you choose.

What sort of adviser are we?

Credit Union Baywide is a Qualifying Financial Entity (QFE). You can check that Credit Union Baywide is a registered financial services provider and its QFE status at www.fspr.govt.nz. Credit Union Baywide takes responsibility for the advisers that we employ. This includes making sure that advisers exercise care, diligence and skill in providing financial advice to you. The QFE's licence means that QFE advisers do not have to be individually registered or authorised.

What services and products can we provide to you?

Credit Union Baywide offers financial advice in relation to its own products, including shares in Credit Union Baywide, transaction accounts, savings accounts, term investments, credit facilities (such as home loans, personal loans, line of credit and overdrafts), debit cards, internet and mobile banking, telephone banking and text banking. Credit Union Baywide also offers its members financial advice in relation to some additional products provided via third parties such as vehicle, house, life and income protection insurances, funeral insurance and sale and purchase of foreign currency through Travelex NZ. The Credit Union receives a commission, which is always disclosed, for arranging these transactions.

We can provide you with information about KiwiSaver and the Fisher Funds KiwiSaver Scheme so that you can make a decision whether to join. We cannot and do not provide any financial advice in terms of recommendations or opinions, in relation to whether or not you should join the Fisher Funds KiwiSaver Scheme. If you're currently with another KiwiSaver provider, we can make no comment about that scheme or its suitability to you.

If you require financial advice (for example, to choose your investment option or to determine how KiwiSaver fits within your overall financial situation), please contact an Authorised Financial Adviser.

You do not pay additional fees by joining the Fisher Funds KiwiSaver Scheme through Credit Union Baywide than you would by joining directly with them. Our QFE advisers do not receive any additional remuneration or commission for providing information about KiwiSaver or the Fisher Funds KiwiSaver Scheme.

Credit Union Baywide (but not our staff) does receive third party fees from Co-op Money NZ (formerly the New Zealand Association of Credit Unions) under its national distribution arrangement with Fisher Funds Management Limited for the work we do in providing our members with information about KiwiSaver and the Fisher Funds KiwiSaver Scheme and for providing on-going service and support to our members that join the Fisher Funds KiwiSaver Scheme. These fees are not payable if members leave the Fisher Funds KiwiSaver Scheme within one year of joining through us.

Fees payable by you?

Information relating to fees payable by the members of Credit Union Baywide is available in-branch, on the relevant website (being nzcubaywide.co.nz, nzcusouth.co.nz, nzcucentral.nz or acu.nz) and on the Offer register at disclose-register.companiesoffice.govt.nz.

How are our advisers paid?

Our advisers are paid an annual salary and do not obtain a bonus for selling our products.

There are generally no material financial incentives in place for any staff at any level, individually or as a group, to sell any specific product or service. There are the occasional "drives" where a branch may win a small prize like a morning tea shout, or a hamper, or vouchers, but there are no material incentives offered for sales. Equally on occasion third party providers may provide vouchers of a small denomination (e.g. generally less than $200 per referral/sale) to encourage up-selling of their products.

What should you do if something goes wrong?
